

CONTENTS

	Page No.
Declaration	ii
Acknowledgements	iii-iv
List of Abbreviations	v
Preface	viii-xxii
Chapter I	1-19
Introduction
Mamani Raisom Goswami as a Novelist
1.01. Introduction	2
1.02. Mamani Raisom Goswami-The Novelist	2-4
1.03.Mamani Raisom and Feminism	4-6
1.04. Mamani Raisom Goswami -A Great Realist	6-7
1.05.Autobiographical Elements in Mamani Raisom Goswami's Novels	7-9
1.06. Mamani Raisom's Art of Story Telling	9-11
1.07. Mamani Raisom's Craft	11-13
1.08. Mamani Raisom as a Humanist	13-15
1.09.Theme of Mamani Raisom's Novels	15-16
1.10. Mamani Raisom's Character Portrayal	16-19
Chapter II	20-45
Theoretical Notes on the Subaltern
2.01. The term Subaltern	21
2.02. Evolution	21-24
2.03. Genesis of the Subaltern Historiography	24-25
2.04. Subaltern in Colonial period	25-26
2.05. The Postcolonial Subaltern	26-29
2.06. Gendered Subaltern	29-30
2.07. Antonio Gramsci and the term Subaltern	30-31
2.08. Ranajit Guha and Subaltern Studies Group	31-35

2.09. Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak and Postcolonial Literary Theory	36-39
2.10. Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak's Can the Subaltern Speak?	40-45
Chapter III	46-141
Analysis of the Selected Novels from Subaltern perspective
3.01. Introduction	47-48
3.02. Chenābar Sōt : The Silence of the Subaltern	49-61
3.03. Ahiran : The Meek voice of protest	61-75
3.04. Māmāre Dharā Tarowāl : Blunt protest by the Subaltern	75-85
3.05. Datāl Hātir Uye Khowā Howdā : Dominating Discourses and the Subaltern	85-97
3.06. Nilakanthi Braja : Denial of social construct by Subaltern	97-107
3.07. Chinnamastār Mānuhto : Ritual versus Religion and Subaltern reaction	107-121
3.08. Discussions	121-141
Chapter IV	142-156
Mode of Protest by the Subaltern
4.01. Language of Protest in Mamani Raisom Goswami's Novels	143-144
4.02. Protest by the Gendered Subaltern	145
4.03. Silence, words and Action-Three Modes of Protest	146-150
4.04. Suicide as a Mode of Protest	150-154
4.05. Subaltern Male Characters	154-156
Chapter V	157-161
Conclusion
5.01. Situating Mamani Raisom Goswami in Postcolonial Literature	158-159
5.02. Observations	159-161
5.03. Scope for Further Study	161
Bibliography	162-167
Annexure	I-III